WE NOMINATE

Edgar Stephenson Furniss Jr., 41-year old political scientist, who has hit the "scholarly jack-pot" with the publication of one of the most thoughtful books of the winter, "France, Troubled Ally". At a time when the Nation's press is bubbling with accounts—both factual and speculative—of the impending "Summit Conference", this soft-spoken Princetonian has brought forth with the assistance of the Council on Foreign Relations a carefully documented volume which concludes that Premier-General Charles de Gaulle "will not succeed in restoring France to its past grandeur." In short, Furniss emphasizes, France no longer merits status as a world power.

The Furniss thesis, that France is a status-seeker led by an astute propagandist rather than by a doer, runs contrary to the policies and practices of the Western Nations in post-World War II years. France, and since the fall of 1958 France and de Gaulle, have been accorded, Furniss points out, roles far out of keeping with any realistic estimates of France's strength and potential. This he writes calmly and convincingly, under the sub-title of "De Gaulle's Heritage and Prospects", of the national leader who dominated the recent Paris meeting of the West's political and military leaders.

The newly issued work, accorded front-page billing by The New York Times in this past Sunday's Book Review, culminates years of work, including periods of residence in France. Long recognized as a specialist in French foreign policy, he is also the author of the widely read "French Foreign Policy-Making", a 1954 publication, and can point to a number of papers (written over the past 15 years) concerned with various facets of France's frequently paradoxical position in the continuing struggle between East and West.

Iowa-born, and a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Yale with the Class of 1940. Furniss ranges far beyond the Fourth and Fifth French Republics in the broad area of international relations. At one time or another, in his 13 years in the University's Department of Politics, he has taught in every course offered by the department in the international field. He introduced some years back the upperclass course, "The Great Powers in International Politics", and has helped develop on the graduate level a searching analysis of American foreign policy.

Furniss, a member of the U.S. Department of State's Latin-American Section from 1944 until 1946, was among the first eight young teacher-scholars appointed in 1950 to Princeton Bicentennial Preceptorships, three-year assignments reserved for men of marked promise at the assistant professor level. Outside of Princeton in the past decade he has shouldered lecturing, teaching or consulting responsibilities for such institutions as Johns Hopkins, the University of Pennsylvania, Vanderbilt, the Armed Forces Staff College and both the Army and Air War Colleges.

For placing de Gaulle and his aspirations for "La Patrie" in a "new" light; for demonstrating the close relationships often existing between productive scholarship and the hard facts of life; for his many other contributions as an analyst of international politics; he is TOWN TOPICS nominee for

END OF AN ERA?

Community Players May Close.
A Princeton institution which
was launched in the depths of the depression, weathered the disruptions of World War II and survived numerous transplantings
from one headquarters to another,
this week raised the danger flag.
Stating their plea for interest and
support in forthright fashion, the Community Players declared
frankly that if it is not provided
in greater measure, their days on the Princeton scene are numbered.

The once closely-knit dramatic
organization is beset with a variety of problems, ranging from a
steady turnover in its top personnel to the fact that despite the markedly higher quality of its
performances, the trend at the box office is in the opposite direction. In the postwar years,
which have seen the Players hand-
more than once for a suitable
home and have perennially been marked by ever-optimistic membership drives, a solid basis for future activity has not been achieved.

This week, Mrs. Herbert Mc-Aneny and Mrs. Paul Fussell, outgoing president and secretary of the Players, told the Princeton
community that the organization
is squarely at the crossroads.
"Does Princeton," they ask in a letter to TOWN TOPICS, "want a community theatre badly enough
to support one?"

The thoughts they express are
an interesting reflection on some of the changes the town has undergone since the Players gave their initial performance in the same year that marked Franklin D. Roosevelt's first 12 months in the White House. In effect, the question is whether Princeton, 1950, will take whatever steps are necessary to support a cultural
contribution to its community life
that has provided countless hours
of entertainment to participants
on both sides of the footlights.

"D.H. Loves M.M."

The question of Valley Road
sidewalks heaved up again before Township Committee
Monday night. A letter written by Henry J. Frank, 273
Jefferson Road, outlining
square by square, the condition of the sidewalks, was
read by Clerk Joseph Kiri and answered by Committeeman
John Blount.

Mr. Frank covered both sides of Valley Road, Jefferson to Ewing, pin-pointing
those cement blocks that had heaved in frost, cracked from exposure to heat and cold, or
been desecrated by dog-pirnis,
tic-tac-toe games and "D. H.
loves M. M."

Mr. Mount told Mr. Frank
that the construction company
which laid the sidewalks had gone out of business and that its owner had vanished. The bonding company, however,
has been approached and the
sidewalks, constructed in the fall of 1958, will be repaired.

"But I'm afraid," said Mr.
Mount, "that the blocks in which there are messages and
games will not be replaced unless they are damaged." Mr.
Frank's research did not show
whether "D. H." would give anything to have that square
replaced.

The text of the letter:

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Is there any other major country in the world today in which
the arts are so poorly supported
as in the United States? For fear of Federal control, we balk at the notion of Federal support, and yet
we fail to provide adequate local support.

Why? Is it a holdover from Puritanism that the arts are suspect? A belief that politics and hospitals and housing are more
real and enduring than participation in acts of the creative imagination? When President Mason
Gross of Rutgers University recently described New Jersey as a cultural desert, Town Topics
replied that Princeton, at any rate, was a cultural desert, replete with goodies.

It is thus ironic that for the first time in its more than a quarter century history the Community Players, as one of those goodies, must now ask Princeton
whether it wants a community
theater badly enough to support
one. The Players in such a
withering for lack of nourishment,
and this in spite of the fact that
the Players' productions are considerably more competent now
than in "the good old days" at Avalon.

Perhaps with on-and-off-Broad-
way just a Dinky's length away,
there is no longer room for the
actor who acts solely for the pleasure of it in his spare time,
and no longer an audience to watch him. Perhaps the creeping commercialism of professional
show biz, whether on Broadway
or in McCarter, has elbowed out community theaters for good. Even the late Margo Jones' famous Arena Theater in Dallas has announced its closure for lack of funds. Or perhaps it's just that Americans prefer to pay to the arts lip service rather than hard cash.

These are the cold facts for the Players: with a seating capacity
of less than 200 and with the short
runs necessitated by the professional lives of the participants, a
production is lucky to break even.
Meanwhile, overhead costs of the
rented theater building, the Playmill, run high. Even with sold-out performances, the Players will continue to lose money
and will be forced eventually to announce a final curtain unless
the community supports the group
by active participation, both by membership and by money.

Those Players who devote their nights and the days they can
spare to putting a show together,
with clay and waffles if necessary, believe that there is a pleasure and a value in such a joint effort for which the purchase
of an 18 ticket to see Mary Martin is no substitute. They also believe that there is an audience for such undertakings, an audience not yet
shockily numbed by TV or VFPs, but one that recognizes creativity wherever found to be a source of strength vital to both individual and group.

 If there are enough people who agree with the Players and who are not indifferent to cultural harassment, whether local or national, the Players can continue to create a theater of value to the community. If not, they will be forced to close.

PERSONALITIES
 Richard Nichols, Carter Road, veteran actor (including appearances with the Community Players and Theatre Intime) who this week gave Princeton new representation on Broadway with a part in the just-opened drama, "A Distant Bell," starring Martha Scott.

Warren Martin, Princeton Junction, musical director at Westminster Choir college, whose Symphony in F Major will receive its world premiere at the Princeton Symphony Orchestra concert on January 25. Mr. Martin, who wrote his symphony for Nicholas Harsanyi, conductor of the orchestra, refers to his new work as "mild and cheerful, meant to be entertaining." A composer of religious choral music, he turned to orchestral writing some years ago and his Concerto Grosso was performed by the Princeton Symphony in 1956.

James G. Campbell, Jr., 93 Battle Road, who retired from public life and returned to it in rapid succession. A Township Committeeman who did not choose to run again, Mr. Campbell bowed out of Committee life on January 1 when his successor, Thomas P. Cook, was sworn into office. Last Monday, Mr. Campbell bowed in again when he accepted a job as member of the Township Zoning Board. He will serve until December 31, 1961, filling the term of James S. Hill, who resigned to become Township magistrate.

ROUNDUP
 The year's second general alarm sounded last Thursday for a fire at 468 Nassau Street, a party set the roof of the small frame house ablaze in mid-afternoon, with a Public Service work crew nearby accomplishing much with a garden hose before the Fire Department arrived. Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick, the tenants, were not at home when the flames were discovered.

Traffic signals on Route 1, between Trenton and New Brunswick, have been synchronized so that motorists can drive the entire distance without encountering a red light—if they travel at 50 miles an hour... speeds closer to 60 (or well under the legal limit) will result in conflict with lights changing to permit cars to enter from side roads of the big-ham turns. There are now 32 such signals, and the various improvements with the highway over this 19-mile stretch have cost approximately $5 million.

Fifteen upperclass eating clubs on Prospect Avenue have had their appeals for a reduction in tax assessments rejected for a second time... reductions had been sought in appraisals ranging from $31,400 (Terrace) to $63,800 (Cottage), but the State declined to agree that adequate proof had been provided to result in a reduction.

Chain letters have returned to the University campus with participants sending $25 Savings Bonds to the name at the top of the list and hoping for an eventual bonanza that could run as high as $18,000... both Princeton banks have reportedly sold more bonds than usual since college reopened and an influx of chain letters arrived from other campuses... the U.S. Government is bedeviled by the fact that, despite its interest in increasing the sale of Savings Bonds, chain letters are a form of lottery, and strictly illegal.

Icy streets Sunday and Monday plagued quiet communities more than Princeton but one car spun full circle on Nassau and wound up striking the porch of the Joseph Hasboun home... the driver, Donald B. Teague, 25, 184 John Street, was picked up on Sergeant Street and ticketed for leaving the scene of an accident.

Ten Years Ago: TOWN TOPICS, January 12, 1950. Plans being made for the March of Dimes were stepped up with the knowledge that "polio had been unusually prevalent in Princeton last fall"... the New Jersey Poll was asking voters whether they thought General Eisenhower would run for President... the current motion pictures were Gene Kelly in "On the Town" and Laurence Olivier in "Hamlet"...

Princeton set a scoring record when it ran up 77 points in basketball against Harvard... the Princeton business scene included such now unfamiliar names as Bootherstone Interiors, Euros Tailors, The Exchange, Bert-Arm and the Walker-Gordon Gate House... and the Community Players were announcing try-outs for Alex Templeton's musical, "Dream Boat," soon to be given in McCarter Theatre.

TOPICS Of the Town

BUDGET INCREASED

For Township Schools, Higher staff salaries and increased high school tuition charges have pushed the Township school budget for 1960-61 to $1,361,125. This is an increase of $131,041 over the current budget, according to figures released by the Board of Education this week.

The additional amount to be raised in taxes is $100,718. The increase in the total school tax bill to be sought from the district is slightly less than 10 percent, and would mean an increase of about ten cents in the current Township property tax rate, which is $2.20.

The proposed budget will be submitted to the voters at the annual school district election February 9. The public hearing on the budget will be held in the cafeteria of Valley Road School from 8 to 9 p.m. Thursday, January 28.

Tuition for Township pupils at Princeton High School has been raised from $540 to $580 per year per child, making an increase of $47,450 in the budget. The item for Township teachers' salaries is $92,070 larger than last year, and another $17,000 has been earmarked for salary increases for principals, specialized personnel and custodial staff.

Mandatory interest payments on school bonds will rise $15,101 as a result of the sale of $1,143,000 of school bonds in 1959 to pay for Johnson Park and Riverside Schools.

Reductions in expenditures are also part of the new budget. Salaries in the superintendent's office will decrease by $5,500 because there is no longer a full-time assistant superintendent. Textbook purchases will decline by $3,370 because new schools can be equipped from current $8,850 and bus costs will drop by $6,750 as the result of the completion of two new schools. State aid will rise by $6,709.

The proposed budget has been approved by the Mercer County superintendent of schools. Complete copies are available at all Township schools.

PUBLIC HOUSING PUSHED

Council Arts on Relocation. Families displaced by the proposed realignment of Jackson Street in the urban renewal program will be provided with low-cost public housing units either in the Borough or Township, in accord with a resolution passed at the January meeting of Borough Council. The resolution, although not a commitment of a given amount, was necessary as evidence for the federal government of the municipality's willingness to proceed on the relocation, according to Housing Authority head Harry W. Hazard.

The resolution calls for a total of 13 units to be provided for the displaced families. Seven of these will be for elderly individuals and couples and will be located on the northeast corner of Witherspoon Street and Witherspoon Lane. The remaining six large units will be situated either on Borough-owned land in the Township or, if this fails, on scattered sites within the Borough.

Under proposals made by the Township Committee and contained in the Council's resolution, the two municipalities would share a public housing site in the River Road area on land owned by the Borough within the Township. The additional provision for either the Borough or Township supplies the "evidence of willingness to proceed" in case the combined project does not work out.

In other action regarding the future of the Borough, the Council approved Dan D. Coyle's Committee work with the Township Committee on possible integration of the two governments. It also gave his committee permission to reopen talks with Princeton and West Windsor Townships on road

A Report on Princeton

The first installment of the "Community Audit" made by the Human Rights Committee of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom will be presented next week at 8:15 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

The audit, started in November, attempts to judge the practices of Princetonians against the basic standard of the U. N. "Declaration of Human Rights." This first report will concern public accommodations.

Institutions and organizations studied by the League were: those with a philosophical commitment to brotherhood (churches); those making public appeal for funds (United Fund agencies); those that use tax-free property (schools); those that fall under state anti-discrimination laws (stores, hotels, hospitals, etc.). Two questions are asked of these groups: "What proportion of your clientele is Negro?" "What proportion of your employees is Negro and in what grades?"

planning on the far side of Lake Carnegie.

To deal with the problem created when the Princeton Inn dropped its Borough liquor-consumption license, the Council introduced a resolution to reduce the total of consumption licenses in the Borough to 11 rather than permit another establishment to serve alcohol. As Mayor Raymond E. Male put it, the ordinance is designed to "bring out into the open" the whole question in a public hearing at 8 p.m. Tuesday, February 5.

In the past, the Princeton Inn has held liquor licenses in both the Borough and Township, since it was situated on the line. However, a new law requires it to have only one license, which it has taken out in the Township, thus freeing one of the Borough's licenses. Mayor Male revealed that the Council had shown itself to be narrowly opposed to renewing the license, and suggested the resolution to reduce the number of licenses to 11.

HOUSING IS DEBATED

At Township Committee, in a lengthy exchange between Seymour Montgomery, representing Horatio Turner, and members of Township Committee, the question of decision on multiple housing in the Township was aired and explained at Monday night's meeting of Township Committee. Mr. Montgomery asked Committee to prod the multiple-housing sub-committee of the Planning Board into a quick decision so that his client can, hopefully, use his property north of Valley Road between Jefferson and Mt. Lucas for multiple housing units. Mr. Montgomery said that Mr. Turner was also disturbed by the S-curve of Terhune Road which crosses his property on Township maps, if not actually on the land.

Mayor Fairman told Mr. Montgomery that the multiple-housing committee hoped to make its report on February 15. When Mr. Montgomery asked for an explanation of the delay (other Master Plan committees reported last spring), Committeeman John Mount told him that extensive and intensive surveys of the need for multiple-housing were undertaken by the sub-committee.

"Opinion Research polled 5,000 people in this area," Mr. Mount Riders could testify to this Monday morning and again on Wednesday this week, although winds that turned southerly made a major difference. They brought a mixture of snow, sleet and rain but were just warm enough to prevent major difficulties.

The temperature got down to 20 twice last weekend, but failed to do the trick for would-be skaters. Not quite so cold in the next few days, the Man reported: some what above average through Friday, with skies clearing for the weekend after midweek rain.

told Mr. Montgomery "to find out what income categories need housing, whether rental or purchase multiple housing are most in demand, whether people want single family or double family dwellings and so on. This takes time."

Mr. Fairman said that representatives of the Board of Education, the Board of Recreation Commissioners, the Planning Board and Township Committee will meet this week to discuss the future of Community Gardens. Mr. Montgomery had urged Committee to consider condemnation proceedings against trustees of the Gardens because the school board, scouting for school sites, had looked over the Turner land. Mr. Turner does not want to sell his land for a school. The Township School Board has expressed its hope that an elementary school can be built on part of the Community Gardens land, but it is seeking alternative sites in case no agreement can be reached with the trustees.

In other business, Township Committee received a gift of seven and one-half acres from William J. Flanagan of New York to be used for a park or a road. The land lies along Stony Brook between the Brook and Quaker Road and north of the Quaker Road-Mercer Road intersection. About half of it is in the flood plain of the brook.

The gift of land in the Brookstone area, presented to the Township by Lawrence Greene, was also accepted by Committee, with expressions of thanks to Mr. Greene. The land will be used for a loop road to the Johnson Park school, and it includes the old trolley line abutments which may serve in the future as foundations for a footbridge over Stony Brook.

In reply to a question raised by A. J. Cevera, S. Hillside, Committeeman William Marvel said that it was "right and legal" for Acting Health Officer Marcella Farley to conduct percolation tests in connection with sewer problems, and to double-check the Township engineer by making tests where the engineer had already made them.

"Current accusations about our sewer program don't make much sense," said Mr. Marvel. "Protests have been made, most erroneously, to the health department and the engineer. This is quite preposterous, because both the health department and the engineer are acting under the direction of the Township Board."

SEASON TICKETS REMAIN
For Children's Entertainments.
Some season subscriptions for
balcony seats are still available
for the Children's Entertainment
Series, sponsored by the Borough
PTA. Those interested in subscribing should write Mrs. R. H.
Parmenter, 175 Hamilton Avenue,
or call her at WA 4-6617 between 9:30 and 11:30 weekdays. No season tickets will be sold after the first performance this Tuesday.
The program includes "Treasure Island," Tuesday; Tom Glazer,
folk singer, February 16;
"Marco Polo," March 22; and Princeton Ballet Society, May 12.
Single tickets will be on sale for each individual performance at $1.50, 95 cents and 50 cents.

weekends beginning January 29.
The mystery tells of a wealthy Englishman who has made a life-
long study of an ancient legend
centered on the murder of an old alchemist a century ago and the weird consequences that followed
in St. James Theatre, London. Sir
Charles Jasper invites his family

HOT EVENING PLANNED

With Cool Mode. A flamenco guitarist whose blood is said to be on fire, a conga drummer who beats out hot African dance rhythms and a folk singer just back from the tropics will combine their talents to provide "a hot evening of cool music," according to the promoters, on January 23 from 9 p.m. at the Chambers Street Firehouse.

There will be food and set-up available but members of the audience must bring their own liquor. Tickets are $2.50, and may be purchased at the door or from Mrs. Joan Levinson, 253 Mt. Lucas Road.

The guitarist with the non-inflammable veins is August DeMello, currently appearing at The Village Gate in New York after a succession of engagements in Havana, Canada and night spots along the eastern seaboard. Eric Loeb, the conga drummer, has been playing the night clubs of Chicago. Folk-singer Jimmy Gavin had been appearing on west coast television programs until he decided to ship for Tahiti and additional folk research.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Happy Anniversary (January 13-19) is a happy and thoroughly delightful adaptation by Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Fields of their play, "Anniversary Waltz." Wascy, the pair made few changes in the transference from stage to screen, taking advantage of Hollywood's new freedom to deal with formerly taboo subjects—in this case, a couple who entered that noble resort, Connubial Bliss, without benefit of the usual passport. While this subject matter removes the film from the realm of kiddie fare, it's nice to know that the movie people are finally beginning to produce a few pictures suitable for adults.

Cast members, all of whom seem to be enjoying themselves, include David Niven, Mitzi Gaynor, Carl Reiner, Loring Smith, Monique Van Vooren and Patty Duke. Niven leads a settled and contented life until, in a moment of mildly alcoholic candor, he indicates to his in-laws that he and his wife (Miss Gaynor), who are ostensibly celebrating their CARY-ED AWAY: Cary Grant and Joan O'Brien romance in "Operation Petticoat," which opens Wednesday at Playhouse.

13th anniversary, should really be marking their 14th. Well sir, you can bet the Gaynor clan doesn't take very kindly to this, and their reactions, together with Niven's subsequent anger with himself for having made the announcement, form the highly humorous body of the film. It all comes out happily, of course, but not until one of Niven's youngsters (Miss Duke) lets the whole country in on the secret on a national TV program called "Kiddie Kounsel." There's quite a bit of farcical social comment in the film, including a number of dead horses which Chodorov and Fields beat with more than ordinary verve. Particularly gratifying to preview audiences was the method Niven chooses to release his self-dig; he kicks in television sets. In addition to its other virtues, the film is notable for the fact that it provides an important role, as Niven's friend and partner, for Carl Reiner, Sid Oswald's very funny ex-partner. David Miller directed. Recommended.

Operation Petticoat (January 20-26). This department cherishes the notion that Cary Grant can do no wrong. "Operation Petticoat" provides a severe test of our faith. The screenplay, written by Stanley Shapiro and Maurice Richlin, is largely unfunny nonsense about a crippled submarine which is boarded by a group of improbably endowed Army nurses during World War II. In addition to Grant, the perpetrators include Dina Merrill, Joan O'Brien and Tony Curtis, who was better imitating Grant in "Some Like It Hot" than he is co-starring with him in this one.

Grant is the skipper of the sub, while Curtis is his brass supply officer, who spends a lot of footage gathering supplies in violation of service regulations. After about 50 or 60 aged submarine jokes (many of which are authenticated by their locker-room tune level), Curtis rescues the nurses from a target area and enuf breaks loose. "You can't have women on a submarine," observes Grant with more truth — Continued on Page 8

IT'S NEW To Us

SHALL WE GO ANTIQUING?
Antiques, Continentals. For people who like the grace and curve
of antiques in the continental
manner, as opposed to the rugged
sturdiness of Colonial Americans,
there is a delightful little antique shop in Trenton called Colay Antitiques.

Its address is 1285 Princeton
Avenue, which means that you
turn right on Princeton at the last light before the traffic circle. If you're on the Lawrenceville-Trenton Road, and drive to the corner of Princeton and Calhoun. No midtown traffic, no parking problems. The shop, on your right, as you drive from Princeton, has a newly painted
white front with black sign and
bright turquoise blue door.

Inside, in a room no larger
than a desk top is a collection of charming bibelots, some old, some
middle-aged, arranged with taste
on several pieces of furniture
which are themselves for sale.

Look at the rococo Venetian
vanity, hand painted in gold leaf,
pale blue and ivory. Or the Jacobean desk which has been refined in pickled white to show
off its fine hand carving.

Inside the glass-paned silver
cupboard, you'll find a set of eight Lenox demi-tasses in open
work silver holders resting on silver saucers. The sixty year-old set, which is complete and in perfect condition, is $95. From about the same era, Colay has a dozen Lenox dessert plates with cream
centers and a narrow border of brilliant green.

A pair of cologne bottles are
made of the deepest emerald
glass, overlaid with silver. Each bottle is a small sphere with a small cylinder on top to hold the stopper. And blown into each stopper is a tear-drop bubble, barely visible through the deep green of
the glass.

Hollow-stem wine glasses, with
pencil cut highlighting the crystal,
are $35 a dozen. There is a handsome crystal decanter, too,
about 80 years old.

Black tile set into the floor of the front display window gives
each piece displayed there the

A Quailch for Sale

The old-fashioned quailches
if that's the plural—used to be made of small wooden staves
hewn together harrel fashion, but the one in the china
closet at Colay Antiques in Trenton, is a gleaming little
silver quailch, plain and shining and rather like a small Revere bowl with two Ubangi
tips.

A quailch? Oh, that's the howl that a Scot laird used to bring out when he had a table
of honored guests. The bowl
would be filled with whisky to its brim. Then the host would pass it to his most honored
guest, using the protruding
rim on one side as a handle.
The guest would sip—hopefully, he would not quaff—and
pass the quailch to the next
guest at the table, turning it
so that the lip on the other side presented itself as the handle.

So the bowl would go around
the board, each guest holding
it by one handle, and passing
it on to be taken by the other
handle.

There was supposed to be a
little whiskey left at the end
for the host. The quailch at appearance of a chess man on a board. Here's a set in gleaming

cut-glass: sugar, creamer, cookie
jar, tumblers, and a cranberry
pitcher from 1830, made of
crackled glass.

One of the most delightful of Colay's recent acquisitions is a group of French costume prints
from 1861, done in cool, brilliant colors and infinite precision of detail. They depict costumes of the 13th, 14th and 15th centuries.
The figures stand out against
white backgrounds and the prints
have been matted and framed
with pale colors so that the vivid
robes of the costumes stand out in sharp contrast. These are sold
individually, in pairs or in sets,
and there are over a dozen and a half to choose from.

Bill's Here. It's Mr. Atkinson,
back from his drawing board and
his sewing machine with a collection of south-or-summer clothes
for patrons of Mary Chapin.

This spring it's "Kaleidoscope",
with blues bright enough to make
you blink, and a solid tangerine
and a sunburst of gold and some
purple which is probably ultraviolet. There is also white, and sand.

The white is a two-piece bathing suit made of canvas or heavy
duck with very short cuffs and
pants which have a sturdy gathered elastic band in back and
a heavy plain band in front to
give fullness where you want it
and flatness where you want that.
Brass buttons hold the shoulder
straps.

"A SCURRILOUS DOCUMENT"

Handbills distributed. Under cover of darkness Saturday night, about 200 copies of the anti-Semitic newspaper, "Common Sense," were left on doorsteps in parts of Princeton, Rocky Hill, Lawrence Township and Kendall Park.

Township Police Chief James B. Campbell Jr. said the single sheets of newspaper were thrown on lawns or put in mailboxes, and that those which were thrown on property violated the Township litter ordinance. Borough Police Chief Raymond Mondone said the distribution violated a borough ordinance which requires registration of those who distribute literature. Other than these violations, however, no apparent law-breaking is involved.

The flyer attacked a long list of Americans of the Jewish faith and repeated several old quotations from the well-known "Protocol of the Elders of Zion." "Common Sense" and its publishers have been cited by the Un-American Activities Committee (in December 17, 1964) and have been condemned by the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Knights of Columbus.

In January, 1969, the New Jersey Assembly passed a resolution condemning "Common Sense" as "inflammatory, bigoted and containing many baseless charges."

Both Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman of the Township and Raymond F. Male of the Borough issued statements this week deploring the distribution of the paper within the Princeton area. "We are," said Mayor Fairman and Township Committee "that the good sense of our community will always repudiate this kind of rubbish." "Every man, woman and child in Princeton," said Mayor Male, "will resist any attempt to turn one man against another."

PROGRESS REPORTED

By First National Bank. At the annual meeting of the First National Bank's shareholders, held Tuesday, John P. Poe, president, reported expansion of the bank's facilities during 1969. Physical changes included new quarters for the Trust Department on the bank's second floor and the installation of electronic bookkeeping equipment.

Mr. Poe pointed out that the bank's West Windsor branch is open to all depositors, even if their accounts are carried at the main office. Plans for more parking space at the Princeton Junction location are being drawn.

Interest rates were increased during the past year, both on savings and loans. The current rate on savings accounts is three percent a year, payable quarterly. Loan rates were forced up with the increased demand for money during the steel strike. Mr. Poe predicted no change in this trend in the immediate future.

DRIVER HITS POLE

On Alexander Street, Joseph L. Cunningham, 38, 256 John Street, lost control of his car on Alexander Street Friday morning, swerved to the left, jumped the curb, and struck a telephone pole.

Taken to Princeton Hospital by police, Cunningham refused to undergo a sobriety test but was nonetheless pronounced drunk and unfit to operate a vehicle. He was charged with drunken driving, returnable Monday. Bail was set at $300.

Still in the Hospital where he was given first-aid treatment for a bruised forehead, Cunningham also complained of pains in his stomach. The Hospital reports his condition as fair. Upon his release from the hospital he will be taken into custody, police said.

BULLOCK FINED $25

For striking Wife, Randolph E. Bullock, 24, 17 Lytle Street, was fined $25 by Magistrate Theodore T. Tama for striking his wife, Fay, the complainant. Bullock pleaded guilty to the disorderly charge.

In other criminal court action, Jean J. Rousseau, 21, and Michael K. Cribbs, 21, both of 10 Patton Hall, Princeton University, were each fined $15 by Magistrate Tama for stealing Christmas trees early one morning from a stand on Nassau Street. Cribbs and Rousseau admitted taking the trees.

In traffic court, George M. Baker, 42, 82 Hartley Avenue, paid a $15 fine for passing a "Stop" sign. Mr. Baker's violation resulted in a three-car accident on December 27.

DIMES ARE MARCHING

"New" Drive "Old" Way. The New March of Dimes in Princeton, under the direction of Malcolm G. Magner, has begun its fundraising activities. The annual house-to-house Mothers' March will be held on January 28 and it is expected that over 300 women will participate. Volunteers may offer their services to Mr. Magner.

The "New" added to the March of Dimes emphasizes the new phase of activity for the national organization, according to Mr. Magner. The March is now concentrating its efforts on raising funds for research on birth defects and arthritis.

FOR BEST LITTLE HANDS

Township Program Resumes. Ceramics and basketball are once again the focus of the township children over the weekends. The two programs, begun last year before Christmas, have been resumed.

Ceramics classes are held on Fridays at 7:30 p.m. and Saturdays at 9 and 10:30 a.m. at Valley Road School. There are a few vacancies for new pupils, according to Mrs. E. E. Hoisington, director. Basketball for six, seventh and eighth grade boys will be provided from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. on Saturdays. High school boys will meet at 10:30 a.m. Both groups meet in the Valley Road gym.

NOMINATIONS OPEN

For Hospital Trustees. Nominations for five vacancies on the Board of Trustees of Princeton Hospital will open Friday. Those who contributed $5 in annual membership directly to the corporation during the 1959 calendar year, are eligible to submit nominations, to be candidates or to vote.

Trustees whose terms expire are Mrs. Donald W. Griffin, Richard C. Margill, Abbridge C. Smith, 3rd, Edgar S. Smith and John H. Wallace, Jr. Nominations may be made to a committee consisting of George Conover, Mrs. Marshall M. H. Dana and Norvell B. Samuels by February 3. Election will be held during the Hospital's annual meeting on February 29.

YOUTHFUL CRIME?

League Will Discuss Question. The fate of young people picked up under the juvenile delinquency law will be discussed by the Juvenile Law Committee of the League of Women Voters at a series of meetings next week to which all interested persons are invited.

The four discussion units will meet as follows: Tuesday, 8:15 p.m., 47 Balsam Lane, discussion leader, Mrs. Robert Danielson; Wednesday, 10 a.m., 14 Deepdub, discussion leader, Mrs. Elmer Alpert and 8:15 p.m., 96 Battle Road, discussion leader, Mrs. William Duryee; Thursday, 1:15 p.m., 105 FitzRandolph Road, discussion leader, Mrs. Courland Perkins.

GARDEN CLUB TO MEET

In Lawrenceville. The Stony Brook Millstone watershed will be the topic of discussion at the forthcoming meeting of the Lawrenceville Garden Club to be held next Tuesday at 1 at the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church.

Malcolm Crooks will be the speaker. A committee under the direction of Mrs. Loy Barton will be hostesses.

TO REPORT ON CLINIC

At Parenthood Meeting. The annual meeting of the Planned Parenthood Committee will be held next Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Edward D'Arms, 940 Kingston Road. Those who wish to attend are asked to notify Mrs. D'Arms before Monday. Mrs. Doris Sutterley, director of the Committee's clinic at 160 Nassau, will report on the new clinic in Trenton. —Continued on Page 15

News Of The CHURCHES

LECTURE SERIES LISTED

At Two Local Churches. Plans for lecture series were announced this week by two Princeton churches.

The first of a five week "University of Life" series will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Princeton Methodist Church. General theme of the series is "Christian Living in a World of Tensions." First speaker will be the Rev. Dr. John M. Swomley, Jr., author, lecturer and national secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, whose topic will be "That Men May Live." A panel discussion will follow, with Dr. John P. Milligan as moderator.

A six-week School of Missions on Africa will begin this Sunday at 5 p.m. at Calvary Baptist Church. A film, "Africa Panorama," will be shown. Mrs. Kenneth Dannenhauer is chairman of the planning committee.

BULLETIN NOTES

A Word of Life Youth Rally, conducted by Jack Wyrten, will be held this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Princeton High School auditorium. The rally is being sponsored by the Western Road Church.

The nationally-known Chapel Choir of the 59th Street Church, Brooklyn, will give a concert this Saturday at 8 p.m. at Bunker Hill Lutheran Church, Griggstown. The concert is open to the public.

The Women's Group of Kendall Park Jewish Center will meet this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the Center building. The novel, "Exodus," will be discussed by Richard Alpert. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Neil Goldwasser, Mrs. Meyer Malakoff and Mrs. Harry Rosenfeld.

Compulsory Chapel Cut

The issue of compulsory chapel attendance for students at Princeton University, a subject of controversy between undergraduates and the board of trustees for more than 25 years, was brought into the limelight again this week with the announcement that the trustees have voted to abolish compulsory attendance for sophomores.

Student representatives have been urging that all compulsory chapel attendance be eliminated. The trustees' action, announced by President Robert F. Goheen, specifies that while sophomores will not have to go to chapel, Princeton will continue to require that freshmen attend chapel, or a church of their choice.

20 NASSAU STREET

A WORD TO THE LADIES: MEN ARE NOT UNOBSERVANT! If the female world thinks so, here's proof that it's wrong. Men tell them in detail just how they like them to dress, listing a variety of do's and don'ts, and even teaching on such details as proper make-up, blouses in favor of femininity, while Robert Galick speaks out for conservatism among their elders. For other male viewpoints, see below.

Question of the Week

Question: How do you prefer women to dress?

Asked: Of men-about-town.

Thomas W. Ezlin, 16 Gulick Road, Assistant Director of Admissions, Princeton University: I would say that as long as they are neat and tidy. I don't particularly care how they dress. One thing that really annoys me though, is when they walk around town with their hair up in curls.

Robert O'Brien, 92 Nassau Street, personnel director: I like to see a woman with a good figure in a nice sheath dress, but one who at the same time is modest and unpretentious. I prefer to see a woman dressed and made up to suit the occasion; I don't like to see a woman overly made up.

Taylor Marrow, 121 Birch Avenue, clerk: I like to see them dress conservatively—they look more natural that way. Most women don't have any business wearing slacks or Bermuda shorts.

Shimon Shamir, 226 Eisenhower Street, graduate student: I must say that I'm used to a simpler way than American women dress. Women in Israel dress much less extravagantly, but they are changing that, too, and dressing more like Americans. In answer to your question, I prefer women to be dressed well and in accordance with their particular society. I can say one thing—I don't like the Bermuda shorts that women wear in the summer.

William Sampson, 1045 Melrose Avenue, Trenton, telephone installer: As long as they dress in style, I'm satisfied. That's the main thing. I've always found women to be dressed very appropriately and very adequately. They dress to please the men, anyway. I'm sure they take their appearance and everything else into consideration when they dress.

Frank Landolfi, Miry Brook Road, Hamilton Township, barber: Strictly conservative! James L. Silinetti, 1879 Hall, University student: I prefer them to be dressed in outfits of a simple and classic cut—something that is plain but at the same time ruffled. I don't like too many ruffles, elegant without any ornamentation or anything that would tend to take the eye away from the elements of the female figure which need not be improved or exaggerated, only complimented.

Walter Scott, 32 Cuyler Road, Head of Princeton's United Community Fund: As a whole, I like women dressed very attractively. I like to see them use color, shades that are suitable to the personality and the color of their hair. Older women, especially, should avoid black. I might add that regardless of how they dress, I wish they would always be willing to look for the Community Fund!

Joseph Gettoert, 18 Witherspoon Street, liquor store owner: In the latest Parisian styles. I think they can afford it; they're all working and making money.

Ticodoro Zoupanos, 191 Graduate College, international law student: Something rather simple and elegant, without anything gaudy. Their style of dress should coincide with the type of day they lead, the particular occasion, their individual means, etc. What I mean is that their dress should be part of a broader whole. I'm definitely against these sack dresses and these very tight sheaths. If they have the figure for them, it's all right, but very few women do.

Joseph Czerkowski, Englewood, construction superintendent for Nassau Inn addition: I like the slim silhouette and the form-fitting type of dress and coats. I particularly like those olive drab coats with the fur collar which seem to be in style this year. I dislike the very pointed heels that women are wearing now.

Ronald Reimisch, 53 N. Tulane Street, chemist: I would only say that women should be neatly dressed and that the type of dress they choose should be fitting to their particular make-up. The way they dress also ought to be something that represents their individual tastes. I don't like them to look all alike. There is too much uniformity of dress among women.

Tony Mayhew, 1879 Hall, University student, native of Guyana, British West Indies: I think, on the whole, American women don't dress femininely enough. I like to see women dress with high heels, long full skirts and with a certain amount of make-up, but not carried to the extreme. In the summertime, especially, American women dress very masculine with their shorts, slacks and dungarees. The teen-age girls in the United States are particularly obnoxious in their dress. They look like men most of the time. There is no simplicity or girlishness about them.

Herbert Lorenzen, Wildwood Avenue, Fords, clerk: I like to see them in short skirts, the length that is so popular now. I believe it is knee length or just above the knee.

Bert Zippel, 12 Stockton Street, graduate student: Conservatively, with not much make-up. Their make-up should not be too apparent or noticeable. I dislike harsh make-up such as too much mascara, bright lipstick, odd-half nail polish such as green and silver, and stockings with designs on the back of the skirts, sweaters, slacks, etc., are O.K. as long as they fit well. I'm opposed to women wearing clothes that don't suit them just because they happen to be the latest fad.

Robert Galick, Great Road, carpenter: I like anything gaudy. I prefer conservative dresses, or a conservative sporty style of clothes.

Stephen Margerum, 24 Poe Road, carpenter foreman: I like to see women dress like women and not run around in men's clothes. Teen-age girls, when they get dressed up in dungarees and flannel shirts, seem to go kind of wild!

MUSIC In Princeton

HORSZOWSKI DRAWS CROWD.
Pianist Warmly Received. A large audience was in attendance
at the recital given by Mieczyslaw
Horszowski, pianist, in Mc-
Carter Theatre on Monday evening. The second of the Princeton University Concerts, Series I, this concert was sold out by subscription and many students lined the back of the auditorium.

Mr. Horszowski, a light, gray-haired man of about sixty, has a modestly unassuming, winning
way with his audience. His choice
of works for this program, however, contrasted with his personal unpretentiousness, for they included one of Beethoven's most ostentatious piano sonatas, Op. 1
in B flat major, and the complete
group of Brahms Fantasies, Op.
116.

Luigi Dallapiccola's Sestina
Canonica in E flat major on "Ca-prioletti" by Niccolò Paganini, with which Mr. Horszowski opened his program, seems, on one hearing,
to be a rather nondescript work.
Traces of the Impressionist and
late romantic influences are dis-cernible in this music, but it seems to be deficient in any real
substance or compositional basis.
Finally, the piece calls for some occasional virtuosity, and more frequently for a lucidity of tone
quality, which Mr. Horszowski
handled sensitively.

The Brahms Fantasies were adequately performed, though this particular performance lacked a certain warmth and richness of emotional quality so important to the effective communication of this composer's music. The required brilliance was certainly
present, but more variation in dynamics and tonal shading — and
perhaps more tempo contrasts —
would have been welcome.

The pianist cleverly placed the
"piece de resistance," Beethoven's
"Hammerklavier" Sonata,
Op. 106, at the end of the program, not only because of the work's great length, but also for the reason that this particular
sonata has been and continues to be a definite "drawing-card" for concert audiences. That the work is enormously difficult and demands much in the way of technical skill and sheer physical endurance of the performer there is no doubt. That it is one of Beethoven's greatest works is purely
a matter of personal opinion.
There is much in this sonata that
is superfluous-much that is trite
and not very well written.

Mr. Horszowski's performance
of the work had some beautiful
moments, but unfortunately, some
passages which call for harmonic
clarity and clear-cut phrasing
were marred by blurring of the notes. However, the mental and physical energy expended by any

pianist in preparing and performing this sonata is not to be taken lightly.

The audience responded warmly
to Mr. Horszowski's program, and he was recalled to the stage
many times, both before the intermission and at the end of the concert. He graciously acknowledged the applause with two en-
cores, the Etude in F major, Op.
25, No. 3 by Chopin, and Schubert's Impromptu in E flat major.

DEUX ARTS TRIO COMING
In Series II Concert, The Trio
will perform "Toscanini"
called "an inspiring experience"
will come to McCarter Monday at 8-30 for the second in Series II
of the Princeton University Concerts.

The Deux Arts Trio grew out of informal musical gatherings at the home of Robert Casadesu. At his suggestion, the members decided to perform in public, presented their first recital at the Bassac Festival in 1948. Each member is a virtuoso in his own
right, but each subordinates his own talents so skillfully that the Trio has won critical acclaim for
its balance and its artistry.

Members of the Trio are Daniel Guilet, violinist; Bernard Greenhouse, cellist; and Menahem Pressler, pianist. Mr. Guilet was concertmaster of the N.E.C. Symphony under Toscanini and still holds the position with the Symphony of the Air, as the orchestra
is now known. He plays a Stradivarius, dated 1712.

Monday night's program will consist of the Trio in C Minor, Opus 66, by Mendelssohn, the Trio
in C Major, No. 3 by Haydn and Ravel's Trio in A Minor.

VARIED PROGRAM PLANNED
For Friends' Symposium. The
concert of the Annual Symposium
of the Friends of Music will be open to the public this year for
the first time because of the
varied and exceptional program
that has been planned. The few seats which are available to the public are on sale at the University Store.

The program, which will be presented in 10 McCosh at 3:15
p.m. this Sunday, will be performed by the New York Chamber Soloists and dedicated to the memory of Walter W. Naumburg, benefactor of musicians and Symphony of the Friends of Music, who died this fall at the age of 91.

For their recital, the Soloists
have chosen Mozart's "Quartet
for Flute and Strings"; a Handel trio sonata; Ravel's "Duo for Violin and Cello"; "Eight Minuets
for Baroque Ensemble" by the contemporary American, Mel Powell; and a "Concert in Royal"
by Couperin. The Chamber Soloists consist of flute, cello, harpsi-
corder, oboe, viola and violin.

MORINI WILL PLAY
With Princeton Symphony. Erica Morini, hailed as "one of the world's greatest violinists" will join Nicholas Harnanyi and the Princeton Symphony orchestra on January 25 for a performance of Beethoven's violin concerto in D.
The concert will be given at 8:30
p.m. in McCarter Theater.

The concert will also feature the world premiere of Warren Martin's Symphony in F Major. Mr.
Martin, musical director of Westminster Choir College, has had compositions performed by the Princeton Symphony on previous occasions. Bach's Suite No. 3 in D Major will be the opening number of the concert.

AUCTION NETS $2,400

For Smith Scholarships. The sale of a wide variety of items, including furniture, bric-a-brac, baked goods, gifts and toys, netted the Smith College Club of Princeton over $2,400 as the result of Saturday's auction. Miss Elizabeth Moriarty served as chairman and Lester Slaboff was auctioneer.

Proceeds from the auction go into a scholarship fund which is used to help girls from the Princeton-Trenton area. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activity and financial need, and applications are now being accepted for the 1960-61 academic year. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Gordon Sikes, 36 Olden Lane.

Obituaries

Morton S. Gertel, 40, of 42 Harriet Drive, died January 5 in Princeton Hospital of a heart attack. A Princeton resident for six years, he was born in Newark and received his BA from Rutgers University. He did graduate work at Princeton University.

A World War II veteran, he served in the Army in France and North Africa and was discharged as a lieutenant. He attained the rank of captain in the reserves. He was an analyst with the State Highway Department from 1947 until his death.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Blackman Gertel; a son, Arthur Gertel; a daughter, Ellen Gertel; his mother, Mrs. Fannie Kraft Gertel; two brothers, Albert Gertel of West Orange and Owen Gertel of East Orange; and two sisters, Mrs. Esther Wilensky of Livingston, and Mrs. Sylvia Magenheim of Newark.

Rabbi Aaron Kraus officiated at the services, with interment in Beth Israel Cemetery, Woodbridge. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

T. Clifford Emens, 74, of Walnut Avenue, Monmouth Junction, died January 7 at his home after a long illness.

The husband of Mrs. Ethel M. Emens, he operated a general merchandise store in Monmouth Junction for 45 years before retiring. He had been a director of the First National Bank in Jamesburg since 1931, a trustee of the Miller Memorial Church for 25 years and a charter member of the Monmouth Junction Volunteer Fire Department.

A native of Englishtown, he had been a member of the Cranbury Lions Club for 27 years and was a former member of the South Brunswick township Committee.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Pauline E. Perrine of Jamesburg; two sons, Robert K. Emens of Palmyra and Clifford C. Emens of Monmouth Junction; a sister, Mrs. Nellie Sangle of Hightstown; a brother, William L. Emens of Rahway; seven grandsons, a great-granddaughter and several nieces and nephews.

Dr. Peter K. Emmons, officiated by John Maltby, student pastor of the Miller Memorial Church, officiated at the funeral, held at Mr. Emens' home. Interment was in Old Tennent Cemetery.

Miss Josephine Haler, 83, of 361 Patton Avenue, died January 9 in Princeton Hospital. A native of McKeesport, Penna., she had been a secretary for her brother-in-law, the Rev. Earl L. Douglass. Her only survivor is her sister, Mrs. Douglas.

The service was held in the Lutheran Church of the Messiah with the Rev. Richard Luecke, pastor, officiating. Interment was in McKeesport under the direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Emma S. Tash of 207 John Street died January 9 in Princeton Hospital. The widow of Walter F. Tash, she was born in Sweden and had lived here for 60 years.

Her survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Alice McNamee of Penna Neck; a son, Walter C. Tash of Princeton; a sister, Mrs. Helen Tash of Penna Neck; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The Rev. Charles G. Newbery, assistant minister at Trinity Episcopal Church, officiated at the service, held at the Kimble Funeral Home. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

CANDIDATES WILL SPEAK
In Franklin Township. Candidates for the Franklin Township Board of Education will speak before the various Township P.T.A. groups in a series of "Candidates Nights" scheduled for January and early February. Each meeting will take place at 8 p.m.

The candidates will address Pine Grove Manor and Hamilton P.T.A.s on January 19 at Pine Grove Manor School; Elizabeth Avenue and East Millstone groups on January 20 at Elizabeth Avenue School; Middlebush P.T.A. at the school on January 27; Hillcrest P.T.A. at the school on January 28; Franklin Park and Phillips P.T.A.s on February 1 at Franklin Park School and Kings-ton P.T.A. at the school on February 2.

DRIED FLOWERS TOPIC
Of Dogwood Garden Club. Dried flower arrangements will be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Dogwood Garden Club this Thursday at 1 at the home of Mrs. Philip R. Shays, Wheatstead Lane.

Mrs. Frank J. Clark, Jr., associated with Eighteenth Century Bouquet on State Road, will lead the discussion. She will demonstrate the drying of the flowers, outline the history of the process, and give some practical tips on drying and arranging.

REGISTER NOW!
For Adult School Courses. Many courses offered by the Princeton Adult School will be limited in size and officers of the School urge that those interested send in registrations by mail as soon as possible. Classes begin Thursday, January 28. Registrations should be sent to Princeton Adult School, P.O. Box 701, with a $1 registration fee.

"Some Basic Ideas of Mathematics," a series of informal lectures, will be given by Nathan J. Fine of the Institute for Advanced Study. These lectures will describe the "new" math whose basic concepts will be part of seventh-grade instruction in Princeton schools and in Ewing Township.

Other informal lecture courses this semester include "A Practical Study of Law" and "Ethics." The ethics course will consider ethical problems as they have been posed from ancient times to the present.

"Tale Painting of Early American Designs," "Physical Exercises for Women," "Birds of Princeton," "Social Dancing," "Water-color Painting," "Seamanship and Boating" and "Home Gardening and Landscaping" will also be offered.

Open House will be held at Princeton High School in the cafeteria from 8-10 p.m. next Thursday. Those who have not registered by mail may register at that time.

ANTIQUES FAIR TO OPEN
Thursday in Yardley. The sixth annual Antiques Fair will be held Thursday through Saturday at the Centre Building in Yardley, Pa. Furniture, china, glassware, cooking utensils, jewelry and other items will be shown for display and sale.

The antique sale, for which there will be a slight admission charge, is one of the major fund-raising projects of the Centre Board, a volunteer group responsible for the financial upkeep and maintenance of the Centre. The show will be open from 11 to 8:30.

ETS Plans Addition

Educational Testing Service, which moved into its Rosedale Road buildings in September, 1958, and announced this week that it will divest itself of 20 Nassau (see story this page), has revealed plans for new buildings to be erected on the Rosedale "campus." Construction will begin in June.

Preliminary plans call for a major wing addition to the Operations Center; a two-story building for Test Development; Statistical Analysis and Research; and a one-story structure about the size of the present cafeteria building, for the Library, Advisory Service and Program Direction. Total additional square feet: 56,000.

Architects are Harrison & Abramovitz of New York, the firm that designed the original Rosedale buildings. The additions will be similar in style to buildings already on the site.

Dr. Robinson as chairman of the board and Walter G. Barlow, executive vice-president since 1957, will succeed Mr. Bevis as president.

In his new activities, Dr. Robinson will devote increased time to planning and development. Mr. Bevis will be responsible for the general management of the company and Mr. Barlow will coordinate sales and services, the development of new services and plans for the extension of the Public Opinion Index. The Index is a research service designed to anticipate and examine problems which lie ahead for management.

ORC, with a full-time staff of more than 100, serves over 175 firms through research in marketing, product development, consumer and opinion motivation, public relations, communications and employee and investor relations.

INTEREST INCREASED

By Princeton Savings. Plans to raise its interest rate to 3 1/2 percent were announced this week by the Princeton Savings and Loan Association.

An anticipated dividend in that amount is scheduled for all accounts, retroactive to January 1, 1959. D. Franklin Bunn, president of the 18-year-old association said, "T.S.A. is believed to be the highest rate now offered in Mercer County."

TWENTY NASSAU SOLD

To New Corporation. In one of the largest real estate transactions in Princeton history, Educational Testing Service has sold its property at 20 Nassau Street to the Twenty Nassau Corporation, it was disclosed this week.

The exact price has not been revealed, but the property is valued by Borough tax officials at almost $300,000. (The land is appraised at $115,000 and the value of the building is $182,600.)

Twenty Nassau Corporation consists of Stanley Bright, Jr., of Philadelphia, president; Henderson Talbot of Princeton, vice-president; and Bruce French, Princeton attorney, secretary.

The 33-year-old building is a steel frame and brick structure with five stories, basement and 21 feet of frontage on Nassau Street. It has three stories, basement and 214 front feet on Chambers Street. The structure contains 16 stories, offices and loft space and its own cafeteria—a total of more than 60,000 square feet.

Completed in 1926, 20 Nassau has had only three owners. It was acquired by Princeton University in the early '30s and purchased in 1949 by Educational Testing Service. Under ETS' ownership, the building was extensively renovated, air-conditioning and ventilating systems were installed, the old heating plant was replaced and an additional floor was built on the Chambers Street side.

ETS will continue to occupy its present space under lease arrangements with the new owners. Hugh Wise, Jr. of Smith, Stratton & Wise, is representing the seller. The sale is being negotiated by Edmund D. Cook and the Cook real estate firm will continue as rental agents and operators for the new owners.

ORC MAKES CHANGES

In Management Staff. Opinion Research Corporation has announced three major changes in its management structure.

Dr. Claude Robinson, who founded ORC in 1938, has resigned as chairman of the board to become chairman of a new executive committee which will concentrate on planning and policy formulation. Joseph C. Bevis, who has served as president since 1957, has been named to succeed

Empty Pop Bottles Mean Olympic Dollars

Kitchens, laundry rooms, cellars and back porches crowded with empty soda and soft drink bottles will be scoured by Princeton schoolchildren during the coming week in a novel fundraising project devised to aid the United States Olympic Fund.

Author of the plan is Irwin Weiss, director of physical education at the Borough Elementary Schools and widely known as a football and basketball official for leading Eastern games. Weiss has been named chairman of the New Jersey AAU Olympic Fund Drive.

Assisting with direction of the undertaking will be the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Local 130, of Princeton. Manpower for the project will be supplied by hundreds of children in the community's public, private and parochial schools.

Youngsters have been asked to collect all available "empties" immediately, store them until Saturday and then take them to one of several collection points. The PBA will furnish its bus and driver on the final day of the week-long campaign, with a dozen stops scheduled for pickups throughout the community.

Children participating will receive a pin in return for a dollar's worth of empty bottles, while $5 worth will earn an Olympic membership certificate. Weiss has pointed out that unlike numerous other nations, the United States is dependent for Olympic funds solely on volunteer contributions. In addition to this unique fund-raising project, a statewide drive will be launched under his direction to enlist support from civic, business, industrial and labor leaders.

Walter V. Emann, newly-elected PBA president, has announced the wholesale backing of his organization. Supervision of the collection project will come from a three-man committee headed by Robert MacAvonia, assisted by Norman Servis and Theodore Lewis. The empty bottles will be returned to the proper company by Robert McCarthy, proprietor of The Pink Elephant.

Fund-Raiser Weiss

Beginning Saturday, children may bring their empty bottles to the following locations:

12 noon to 4 p.m., rear of the Pink Elephant, 252 Nassau Street, or PBA bus, southwest corner of Princeton Shopping Center.

Monday through Friday, 4-5 p.m., Pink Elephant.

Saturday, January 23, 12 noon to 4:30 p.m., Pink Elephant. The police bus will make the following stops that day: Rembo at each location for 15 minutes: Mercer and Olden, 12 noon; Hun School, 12:20; Cleveland and Library, 12:40; Valley Road School, 1: Red Hill and Jefferson, 1:20; Shopping Center, 1:40; Little Brook School, 2; Riverside School, 2:20; Harrison and Devereux, 2:40; Nassau Street School (rear), 3; Quarry Street School, 3:20; Pink Elephant, 4.

seemingly had Van Gerbig beaten but the agile net-minder was equal to everything fired at him and highly deserved the white-wash.

On offense, Princeton worked smoothly and effectively, breaking away to a two-goal lead as early as 5:32 of the opening round. Tony Pell beat the visitors' goalie with a diagonal shot from 20 feet out at 4:45, and 57 seconds later, Hugh Scott followed with a picturesque tally while skating across the face of the cage.

Goals by Tom Campbell and Jim Wadsworth marked the second period, with Pell scoring his other goal at 15:19 of the final round. Brown outshot the Orange and Black in every period, but rarely launched a sustained attack.

Earlier in the week, the Tigers hung on to the St. Nicholas Hockey Club long enough to send the game into overtime and then won on a sudden-death goal by Captain John McBride. It came at 1:51 of the extra frame and ended an evening of dreary play that had seen the Princeton sextet lead once, trail on three different occasions and then deadlock the contest just before the end. Mike Erdman, Bill Bancroft, Pete and Bill Galt were the Princetonians on the St. Nick's.

Middlebury's high scoring team is on the schedule Thursday night at 8, with the Tigers hoping to be back at full strength for the first time since the St. Lawrence contest on January 2. Pete Cook, first line center, missed both games last week with a heavy cold.

Cook's absence resulted in shifting the first and third lines by Oweck, Norm Wood, with sophomore Doug Davis and junior Sumner Rulon-Miller alternating in Cook's position. His availability will give the Tigers the best possible chance of trimming Dartmouth, an outcome that is essential if the Indians are not to duplicate the run-away race that looms in the Ivy basketball league.

QUINTET TO FACE BROWN
In Return Game Saturday. Unable to do more than break even against its two opponents last weekend, and thereby losing two of its first three games, Princeton's basketball team will face Brown in Dillon Gym Saturday night at 8. The Bruins whipped the Nassau quintet last week, 79 to 61, 24 hours after the Tigers had surprised by downing Yale, 72-60, at New Haven.

The latter contest created hope that an upswing in Princeton fortunes might be about to follow the opening Ivy loss to Penn. Three Tigers hit in double figures (Don Swan, 22; Pete Campbell, 21; Jim Brangan, 15) and sophomore Al Ksemmerien teamed well with Swan in dominating both backboards against the Elis.

The Tigers were never headed after taking a 14-13 lead early in the game, holding a 32-23 margin at the intermission. Their defense forced the Blues to shoot from the outside, which it could not do well consistently, and the victory was achieved with relative ease.

HOCKEY HOPES SOAR

As Dartmouth Gains Nears. Baker Rink should draw a near-capacity crowd Saturday afternoon when Princeton's hustling hockey team entertains Ivy Champion Dartmouth. The contest, last of the month before the fortnight's break for term-end games, will begin at 4 o'clock with a meeting of the two freshman teams set for 1:30.

Unbeaten in all ten of its league games a year ago, the Green began the week with a 4-1 mark, having lost only to Boston College, 4-3. In its first Ivy game this season, the Hanover sextet trimmed Yale, 4-3.

Dartmouth has both speed and good depth, and the Tigers will have to play bright hockey to win. Off their performance against Brown, however, this should be a closely-fought, highly-entertaining affair.

The Orange and Black surprised with its 5-0 defeat of the Bruins last Saturday, not so much because it won but with the margin of victory. The Rhode Islanders had an impressive 8-0 record and had not been shut out in any of their 12 games.

Goalie Barry Van Gerbig stopped a total of 33 shots during the evening, often getting line assistance from his teammates, notably defenseman Tom Campbell. However, on occasion the Bruins

Sports In Princeton

There was reason to hope that the outcome might be duplicated the following night at Providence, but the unpredictable Bruin had one of their good nights and broke the game open early in the second half. It was 20-31 for the home team at the intermission, but in the first ten minutes after play resumed, Brown widened its lead to 19 points and that was it.

An old Tiger nemesis, pressing tactics by the opposition, disrupted the Princeton attack. The Bruins had 20 fouls charged against them while Brown picked up only 11.

Campbell again caged 21 points and Sean chipped in with 17 but Branigan was held to seven for his lowest total this season. It was the third straight Ivy game played on a court away from home, in which Campbell has been credited with 21 points.

A return game with Penn was on the Tigers' schedule for this Wednesday night at 8 in Dillon Gym. The Quakers were 6-37 victors when the teams met at Philadelphia on January 2.

OTHER SPORTS

Wrestlers Face Lehigh. A 17-14 loser to Columbia last week, Princeton's wrestling lineup will take on Lehigh at 3:30 Saturday in Dillon Gymnasium. The visitors invariably have far too much for the Tigers, who rarely take more than a bout or two from them.

Princeton's swimming and squash teams will meet Cornell at Ithaca on Saturday, while Navy will provide opposition in fencing and track. The fencers entertain the midgies in Dillon Gym at 2, while the track team heads for Annapolis on Friday.

PHS DIVIDES FATE

Beats Hamilton, Loses to Princeton. In the next week, the Princeton High School basketball team will play three games, all of them at home. Friday, in its only home night contest, the Little Tigers will meet Ewing High School at 7:30. They expect a home win. Branch, and the following Friday, South River.

When two teams of even ability meet, the one which gets the most breaks, or the one showing the most spirit and hustle, usually wins. In a game against Hamilton High School Friday, the breaks were even, but the Little Tigers had that extra measure of light and went on to beat the Hornets, 59-35. It was a sweet victory for the Blue and White, which led in the first quarter, faltered and then came from behind to win.

In winning — and aside from a fluke, four-point second period — Coach Tony Borok's cagers looked better than they have all season. They moved the ball well, intercepted a number of passes and got under the boards faster than in earlier games.

Even more encouraging was the shooting, the team connecting with shots from around and under the basket as well as from the outside. Against Hamilton, it sank 58.3 percent. It is still below par from the foul line, however.

Takes First Period Lead. After Jack Lackey's one-hander from the side put PHS in front, 10-9, the home team pulled away to an 18-13 lead at the end of the first period. Lackey's three baskets and Glen Fitzgerald's seven led in scoring, accounting for most of the scoring. Fortunes were reversed in the second period, however, as the Little Tigers encountered one of those frustrating times when the law of averages is suspended, and none of their shots would drop. For eight minutes, the only points they could beg, borrow, or steal were two baskets by Lackey and the half ended with Coach Ray Fresella's live in front 30-22.

Undeterred by the change of events, PHS came back to outscore the visitors in the third period. Blanked in the first half, Ted Meredith dunked six points and the consistent Lackey added five of his game-high 19, to put the Little Tigers back in the game.

With only two minutes left to play and the score knotted at 35-35, it is a tribute to the team that not only did it refuse to become rattled, but won the game from the same foul line that it had abused in the first half. Marty McGuinn sank three foul shots and Jack Hawkins one to ice the first victory for the Little Tigers in 1960 and their second of the campaign.

Peddie Trips PHS. Against another Mercer County foe last Wednesday, Princeton High did not fare as well and lost its first game of the new year to Peddie on the visitor's court, 85-58. Jack Lackey, leading scorer for the Little Tigers, had his best afternoon of the season in connecting for ten baskets and seven foul shots and 27 points while Jimmy Barbour, who hit for 13, was the only other player to score more than six points for the losers.

Though Peddie took the lead in the first period and never relinquished it, the Blue and White was never outthought and, on several occasions, came within a few points of tying the score. At the final whistle, nonetheless, captain Bill Saul and John Simons, who had 49 points between them had handed Princeton High its fourth setback against one victory.

HUN FIVE TRIUMPHS

Roscoe Pennington, 71-42. After looking impressive in beating the Pennington School quintet, Hun will entertain George School Saturday at 7:30 in the Seminary Gymnasium in a Penn-Jersey League contest. In another home game, the Red and Black will oppose Admiral Farragut on Wednesday.

From the first period on, when Hun outscored Pennington by a two to one ratio, the outcome of the game Saturday was never in doubt. Hun hit for 41 percent of its shots to win its second game in three tries. Pennington is still winless.

Three players accounted for 50 of Hun's 71 point total. Dave Salside was high for both teams with 19. Hun captain Lou D'Ambrasio connected for 15 and Bill Gilman followed with 15.

BOWLING NOTES

New League Leaders. The Dayton Five won three games last week to take a one-point edge over Tiger Garage (48) in the Industrial League. Cifelli Electric (58) took the lead from a winless Jefferson Plumbing team (56) in the "B" League.

The "A" loop started its second half of the season last week with Keller Plumbing, which finished last in the first half, and Nelson Glass each sweeping their first three games. Leaders in Women's Industrial League are Nassau Service (92), Decker's Dairy (87) and Cifelli Electric (81). A close race is developing in the Mixed League between Wheeler (31), and Scutellari and Golden with 28 each.

Top individual games last week in the "B" League included Larry Golden, 230; Joe Baldino 217-185-199; Don Snyder, 201-208; Howard McWhorter, 210; and Mike Finelli, 204. Leaders in the Industrial League were Pros Aeschbacher, 218; Russ Sulphin and Glen Bryant, 203 each; and Pete Wengryn, 204.

Also, Bill Bathie, 235; Joe Ruchter, 210; Bill Kiefer, 202; and Bill Barnes, 203 in the "A" League; Val Fowler, 210; Loreita Fusclini, 174; Diane Fugitt, 170; Larry Golden, 222-168-226; and Betty Kleiber, 172, in the Mixed League. Top games in the Women's Industrial League were registered by Helen Tamasi, 212; Peg Brown, 199-173; Janice Cifelli, 197; and Dot Maize, 181.

BEWARE THE SAT's

These are the exams that applicants for college (prep school too) must take to prove that they have the necessary study skills—Reading, Composition, Vocabulary, and the ability to solve problems in Mathematics. Our courses emphasize these skills, and our success is shown by our steady growth. Classes are small and grouped according to ability—sections for superior students too. They all seem to be able to improve.

From 2nd grade to adult.

FOR THE NEW YEAR GIVE

YOUR FAMILY NEW LIFE

IN ONE OF THESE FINE

HOUSES

UNIQUE IN EVERY WAY—This fieldstone and frame Colonial on three high acres in the Western Section is just 1½ miles from Palmer Square. Wide entry hall, a truly grand living room, 22 x 26, with random width walnut floors, exquisite woodwork and fireplace. A paneled country kitchen with brick fireplace and magnificent view overlooking fields and rolling hills. Two large bedrooms, dressing room, (or third bedroom), two tile baths, one with fine tile stall shower, and lavatory. Two-car garage, fine fireplace terrace, shrubbery and trees. Frankly expensive, but so different we think well worth it.

FAIRLY PRICED—This well-planned ranch has a 26 foot living room with dining area. Kitchen with stove, clothes washer, refrigerator. Three bedrooms, one and one-half baths, and an extra room for den or fourth bedroom. Radiant hot water heat. Large brick terrace overlooking pretty lot with dogwoods. $23,500.

A COTTAGE SMALL but so charming. Barn red with white shutters—the interior decorated in perfect taste. Thirty foot living room with fireplace, dining area and doors to terrace. Lovely sunny kitchen, den or bedroom, full bath on first. Two bedrooms, full bath on second. Two-car garage. Located on a pretty dead-end street in the Township. $38,000.

FOR A LARGE FAMILY the perfect answer. This Pearson built split level in a settled neighborhood. Entry hall, spacious living room with fireplace, separate dining room, den. Kitchen equipped with breakfast room, wall oven, counter-top stove, dishwasher. Five bedrooms, three full baths. Huge paneled play room. Completely fenced rear yard, two-car garage. $45,000.

If you think early Georgian or late Cape Cod is just the berries, forget we came in. But if you send your kith enjoy plenty of room and light, believe a house should be designed to live in —
 not merely to exist in, like the idea of getting maximum space per buck, then let's talk. We'd like to explain and show you our concept of a new type of light-hearted
 living that we deeply believe in — the Techbuilt House.
